

Dr Mohammad Y N Saleh, RN, PhD, TVNS, APN WOCN

Professor, School of Nursing, The University of Jordan

Former Secretary General, JNC

Former Vice Dean, School of Nursing, The University of Jordan

Coordinator of critical care master program, school of nursing, The University of Jordan

Board member Sigma Theta Tau, Jordan Chapter (Psi Kappa)

Associate member and International member of WOCN, USA

Former Director of Development and Research at the JNC

Dr. Saleh would like to use his knowledge in health and life science profession to create new knowledge through research and close study of relevant population and disseminate this knowledge to the various communities he served utilizing critical thinking, therapeutic communication and appropriate teaching, management, consultative, and advanced skills in the exercise of professional responsibilities. He would like to engage in the teaching process of several dimensions, such as, Critical Care, Public Health, Wound Care, Applied and Epidemiologic Research, Community Health, Medical and Surgical Nursing, and in instructional development to contribute, not only to the general knowledge base in the field of nursing and health care but also to the ways in which knowledge is created and shared.

Dr. Saleh had authored and co-authored several publications in international peer reviewed journals in the field of nursing and health care including Critical Care, Tissue Viability, Education, Management, School Health, Informatics, Public and Epidemiologic Health Research.